Geneva, 4 April 2023

Discover a thousand inventions from all over the world exclusively at the International Exhibition of Inventions Geneva!

The 48th International Exhibition of Inventions Geneva is coming back from 26 to 30 April at Palexpo with a record number of inventors, universities, institutes, and companies. Discover nearly 1,000 inventions from about 40 countries, mostly from Asia. The highlights include revolutionary inventions from the two guests of honour, MobyFly and Stratoflight. A key networking event, the Exhibition will offer professionals a matchmaking module. Don't miss out either on the educational tour on green innovations offered by the site event Envirama Show.

Diversity of fields of inventions

Among the thousand inventions presented, it is important to note the diversity of the fields of inventions. However, inventions in the fields of medicine, environmental protection and information technology predominate. This diversity reflects the concerns and challenges of our time, as well as the tendency of inventors to develop inventions related to their personal concerns.

Two guests of honour revolutionising mobility

For its 48th edition, the Exhibition of Inventions' guests of honour are two innovative companies in the fields of maritime mobility and space mobility. The award-winning Swiss company MobyFly develops speedboats equipped with foils and flight control software, capable of consuming 70% less energy than a conventional boat. It will present a real prototype at the Exhibition, the MBFY10. The French company Stratoflight, co-founded by Arnaud Longobardi, an airline pilot with Air France, provides fuel-free space travel aboard a shuttle with a balcony offering a breathtaking view of the Earth. The company will reveal to Exhibition visitors a model of the stratospheric balloon vehicle, which will let passengers take a spacewalk at 35 kilometres high.

Updates: Matchmaking for professionals

This year, the International Exhibition of Inventions Geneva is offering an online and mobile app matchmaking module to make networking easier for professionals, media representatives and inventors. This is a chance to connect with potential partners before and during the show.

Envirama show, the Exhibition's side event

In parallel with the Exhibition of Inventions, Envirama Show, the international meeting for innovators, will be held on the same grounds. The 2023 edition will be dedicated to a series of workshops, conferences and events on advanced technologies and innovations.
